1 Introduction

1.1 Structure of the cultural heritage appendices

1.1.1 The cultural heritage appendices for the Castle Bromwich and Bromford (CFA 25) comprise:

- baseline reports (Volume 5: Appendix CH-001-025);
- a gazetteer of heritage assets (this appendix);
- impact assessment (Volume 5: Appendix CH-003-025); and
- survey reports (Volume 5: Appendix CH-004-025).

1.1.1 Maps referred to throughout the cultural heritage appendices are contained in the Volume 5 cultural heritage map book.

1.2 Scope and coverage

1.2.1 This appendix provides descriptive information for the Castle Bromwich and Bromford CFA25 relating to identified designated and non-designated heritage assets that lie within the following study areas:

- designated assets: All designated assets within 2km of the centre line of the Proposed Scheme are listed. Detailed descriptions of assets and their settings are provided only for those designated assets where field study has determined a potential for impacts on setting or significance to arise; and non-designated assets: Detailed descriptions of all assets and their settings are provided for those assets located within the land required to construct the Proposed Scheme and within the 250m buffer zone.

1.2.2 Where appropriate, assets have been grouped together to assist in an understanding either of their context e.g. collecting together archaeological intervention s that relate to a common location or of their setting and significance e.g. collecting together historic buildings either within specific conservation areas or within the same streetscape context.

2 Information supplied

2.1.1 For each asset or group of assets the following information has been provided:

- unique identifier: e.g. CBB001;
- map reference: the gazetteer should be viewed alongside its associated map series (Vol 5, Maps CH-01-156 - CH-01-160a, CH-02-154b - CH-02-157a). The map reference comprises the map sheet series, such as 'CH-01-157', and a location reference within the map, such as 'E4' within the sheet;
- asset type: simple classification of asset type using following classes:
 - ancient woodland;

- archaeology;
- built heritage;
- historic hedgerow;
- historic landscape; and
- settlement.

- name: either name used in designation record(s) or other identifiable name;
- description: short description of the asset and, where relevant, its setting;
- period: primary period relating to asset using period classifications from Appendix CH-001-025;
- designation: if applicable, key designation or designations for some groups;
- grade: where applicable, grade of any designated assets;
- significance / value: score based on Scope and Methodology Report classifications i.e. high, moderate, low, not significant; an 'unknown' category has been introduced in respect of Light Detection and Ranging (LiDAR) and aerial photographic investigation (API) features, in instances where there is presently insufficient evidence to determine significance;
- National Heritage List (NHL) reference: NHL reference for designated assets, where relevant; and
- Historic Environment Record (HER) reference: HER reference, where relevant.

CBB001	CH-01-156 -D10	Archaeology	Medieval fields, south-east of B4118 Birmingham Road.	Ridge and furrow identified through aerial photography. Asset consists of former ridge-and-furrow which has been destroyed by modern development. Nothing of the asset survives.	Medieval	Non-designated	N/A	Low	N/A	N/A
CBB002	CH-01-156-R1 -D5	Archaeology	Medieval fields, south of A4097 within Castle Vale sewerage works.	Feature identified through aerial photography. Ridge-and-furrow, which was extant prior to the development of the sewage works at this location. Destroyed by modern development. Nothing of the asset survives.	Medieval	Non-designated	N/A	Low	332079	N/A
CBB003	CH-01-157 -G7	Archaeology	Drains, possible water meadows and medieval fields located within the Park Hall nature reserve and to the north within the sewerage works.	Feature identified through aerial photography interpretation. Former river channels, ridge-and-furrow and possible drains associated with water meadows. This area was a possible deer park, but no traces of this use have been identified. No visible ridge-and-furrow is now present and the uneven ground in the area is likely to be associated with former river channels. The assets identified are located within an area that is currently managed as a nature reserve which is enclosed by extensive 20th century development to the north and south consisting of the M6 to the south and Birmingham and Derby line to the north. Within the nature reserve the asset maintains its legibility with other assets identified particularly the medieval fields (CBB005) and areas of ridge and furrow (CBB031, CBB021). CBB004	CH-02-154b -C2	Built heritage	Water Orton Bridge, Water Orton Lane.	Originally built pre-15 th century demolished and replaced 1520 for Bishop Veysey of Exeter by current structure, with later alterations. Red sandstone ashlar with six semi-circular arches spanning the River Tame with V-shaped cutwaters continued upwards to form refuges at parapet level. The setting of the bridge is defined by its location on the river with modern development encroaching on the river bank on its south side. The north side of the river is characterised by a broad flood plain which is largely free of development. Views south and eastwards along the river are defined by the historic settlement whilst those westwards and northwards are of a more open aspect but with modern industrial development encroaching into the view south west towards the railway.	Medieval	Scheduled monument and Listed Building	N/A	High	1005763/ 1075812	N/A
CBB005	CH-01-157 -D5	Archaeology	Medieval fields located with the Park Hall nature reserve.	Feature identified through aerial photography interpretation. Ridge-and-furrow was still extant in the 1940s and 1950s, but is now eroded. The assets are located within an area that is currently managed as a nature reserve which is enclosed by extensive 20th century development to the north and south consisting of the M6 to the south and Birmingham and Derby line to the north. Within the nature reserve the asset maintains its legibility with other assets, particularly those associated with landscape management, such as the water meadows and drains (CBB003) and areas of ridge and furrow within the area (CBB031, CBB021).	Medieval	Non-designated	N/A	Low	N/A	N/A
CBB006	CH-02-155-R1 -J6	Built heritage	Minworth Greaves Farmhouse, A38 Kingsbury Road.	18 th or 19 th century brick three-storey with sash windows and canted bay windows and prominent end stacks. The farmhouse faces south across Kingsbury Road towards an extensive sewage works complex. The farmhouse is set behind a low brick wall with single storey barns defining an open court on its west side. Modern development defines a further court to the north. Whereas the south side of Kingsbury Road at this point is characterised by the sewage farm the north frontage retains a more rural character and setting to the farmhouse. CBB007	CH-02-155 -H6/ CH-02-154b -E4	Woodland	Park Hall Wood.	Park Hall Wood southern section (the woodland in separated into two segments) - ancient and semi-natural woodland. The asset is located within an area that is currently managed as a nature reserve which is enclosed by extensive 20 th century development to the north and south consisting of the M6 to the south and Birmingham and Derby line to the north. The area to the south-east is open agricultural land. Within the nature reserve and the agricultural land to the east the asset maintains its legibility as a defined section of ancient woodland. CBB009	CH-01-156 -G8	Settlement, located within Bosworth's Wood and south of the A452	Bosworth Deserted Medieval Village.	Possible site of Bosworth deserted medieval village (DMV) situated south of M6 within Bosworth's Wood, now almost wholly developed. It is wooded and there are no traces on any of the aerial photographs of the remains of a DMV, which are likely to have been destroyed. The asset is situated within Bosworth's Wood and bounded to the north by the A452 and modern housing development to the south and as a consequence its setting has been significantly compromised.	Medieval	Non-designated	N/A	Low	N/A	MSI3105
CBB010	CH-01-156 -E4	Archaeology	Park Hall Ditch.	A ditch at base of slope (edge of escarpment of the River Tame), possibly a leat. The asset is located within an area that is currently managed as a nature reserve which is enclosed by extensive 20th century development to the north and south consisting of the M6 to the south and Birmingham and Derby line to the north. Within the nature reserve the asset maintains its legibility with other assets that are contained within this area.	Medieval to post-medieval	Non-designated	N/A	Low	N/A	MBM2810 - MSI21145
CBB011	CH-01-156 -F4	Archaeology	Pit located within Park Hall Wood.	A marl pit or clay pit assumed to be associated with brickmaking, asset situated within Park Hall Wood. The asset is located within ancient woodland which forms part of the area managed as the Park Hall nature reserve. Its setting within the woodland is compromised by the presence of the Derby Birmingham line to the north and the M6 to the south although the asset retains an association with assets to the east within the Park Hall nature reserve.	Medieval to post-medieval	Non-designated	N/A	Low	N/A	MBM2809
CBB012	CH-01-156 -B4	Deer Park	Park Hall Deer Park.	Site of Park Hall Deer Park, situated to the south of River Tame. Although much of the assumed extent of the asset is within an area of urban development part of it is contained within Park Hall nature reserve, although no visible features of the deer park are present the nature reserve provides an open area that contains other assets.	Medieval	Non-designated	N/A	Low	N/A	MBM2827
CBB013	CH-01-156 -B2	Deer Park	Minworth Deer Park.	Site of New Park Minworth, possibly mentioned in 1222, additional land in existing park in 1510, extending over River Tame into Castle Bromwich 1576 and 1656, but other 16 th maps show area north of Tame, possibly disparted 1584-85.	Medieval to post-medieval	Non-designated	N/A	Low	N/A	MBM2545
CBB014	CH-01-156 -C5	Archaeology	Park Hall Dovecote.	Site of dovecote at Park Hall associated with the Great House (CBB020). The asset is located within an area that is currently managed as a nature reserve which is enclosed by extensive 20th century development to the north and south consisting of the M6 to the south and Derby Birmingham line to the north. Within the nature reserve the asset maintains its legibility with other assets, most notably the former structures such as the Great House at Park Hall (CBB020) and the walled garden (CBB018) and the wider historic landscape.	Post-medieval	Non-designated	N/A	Low	N/A	MBM2415 - MSI6036
CBB015	CH-01-156 -D5	Archaeology	Bridge abutment.	Site of sandstone bridge (patched with brick) and abutment north-east of Park Hall Farm, possibly associated with the Great House (CBB020). The asset is located within an area that is currently managed as a nature reserve which is enclosed by extensive 20th century development to the north and south consisting of the M6 to the south and Derby Birmingham line to the north. Within the nature reserve the asset maintains its legibility with demolished structures within Park Hall, such as the walled garden (CBB018), the dovecote (CBB014) and the Great House (CBB020) and the wider historic landscape.	Medieval to post-medieval	Non-designated	N/A	Low	N/A	MBM2414 - MSI6035
CBB016	CH-01-157 -G4	Archaeology	Airfield and military WWII factories former site of Castle Bromwich airfield.	Feature identified through aerial photography. There were many features visible as marks in the grass, some of which were likely to have been pre-modern. There was a circular cut feature and some linear and curvilinear possible enclosures or boundaries, alongside some natural fungus marks and some possible small sub-circular enclosures in the south of the area. The land here is still open and laid in grass as playing fields. This site was under Castle Vale development by 1966, and was invisible on all photos post-development. Within those areas where assets may survive the setting of these will have been compromised by development following the abandonment of the airfield. CBB017	CH-01-157 -D10	Archaeology	Medieval fields located to the south of the A452.	Feature identified through aerial photography interpretation. Eroded ridge-and-furrow still visible in 1985. Mostly built over and destroyed some vestigial remains may survive. Any surviving elements will have been severely compromised by development of the area during the 20th century and as such the ability to understand assets is significantly limited. CBB018	CH-01-156 -C5	Archaeology	Park Hall walled garden.	Park Hall, rectangular area defined on three sides by hedges and fourth a brick wall, possibly 19 th century. Feature identified through LiDAR analysis. The asset is located within an area that is currently managed as a nature reserve which is enclosed by extensive 20th century development to the north and south consisting of the M6 to the south and Derby Birmingham line to the north. Within the nature reserve the asset maintains its legibility with other former structures within Park Hall, such as the dovecote (CBB014) and the Great House (CBB020) and the wider historic landscape. CBB019	CH-01-157 - I10	Archaeology	Moat, located north-west of B4118 Birmingham Road.	Feature identified through aerial photography interpretation. Sub-square eroded ditched enclosure, which was a moat and site of a former manor house. Destroyed by modern development.	Medieval	Non-designated	N/A	Low	332020	N/A
CBB020	CH-01-156 -C6	Archaeology	Great House of Park Hall.	Site of Park Hall, 17 th century brick-built manor house replaced earlier house on same site, in turn replaced a moated site to the south, and demolished in 1970. The asset is located within an area that is currently managed as a nature reserve which is enclosed by extensive 20 th century development to the north and south consisting of the M6 to the south and Derby Birmingham line to the north. Within the nature reserve the asset maintains its legibility with other former structures within Park Hall, such as the dovecote (CBB014), the walled garden (CBB018) and the wider historic landscape. CBB021	CH-01-157 -J6	Archaeology	Ridge and furrow located with Park Hall nature reserve.	Park Hall ridge-and-furrow, partly covered by pond but north-south ridges visible between pond and embankment along river. The asset is located within an area that is currently managed as a nature reserve which is enclosed by extensive 20th century development to the north and south consisting of the M6 to the south and Derby Birmingham line to the north. Within the nature reserve the asset maintains its legibility with other assets that are contained within Park Hall, particularly those associated with landscape management, such as the water meadows and drains (CBB003), medieval fields (CBB005) and other areas of ridge and furrow within the area (CBB031).	Medieval to post-medieval	Non-designated	N/A	Low	N/A	MBM2418
CBB022	CH-01-157 -J7	Built heritage	Agricultural Building.	One of the few extant structures associated with Park Hall, west of main building (CBB020). The asset is located within an area that is currently managed as a nature reserve which is enclosed by extensive 20 th century development to the north and south consisting of the M6 to the south and Derby Birmingham line to the north. Within the nature reserve the asset maintains its legibility with other former structures within Park Hall, including the former Hall (CBB020), the dovecote (CBB014), the walled garden (CBB018) and the wider historic landscape. CBB025	CH-01-157 -I7	Archaeology	Sawpit located within Park Hill Wood.	Sawpit, surviving as an earthwork in centre of Park Hill Wood (previously known as Spring Hill Wood). The asset is located within an area that is currently managed as a nature reserve which is enclosed by extensive 20th century development to the north and south consisting of the M6 to the south and Derby Birmingham line to the north.	Medieval to post-medieval	Non-designated	N/A	Low	N/A	MBM2808
CBB026	CH-02-155-L1 -F4	Built heritage	East and West coach house, Chester Road.	18 th century brick single-storey with round-headed doorways and hipped roof. The coach house defines a courtyard to the front of the coaching inn, now the Bradford Arms Public House (CBB028). The coaching Inn and coach house form an important group which retain their relationship with the highway. However, the introduction of a large car park and the increase in housing density has detracted from the appreciation of their setting.	Post-medieval	Listed Building	II	Moderate	1076756	N/A
CBB027	CH-02-155-R1 -G4	Built heritage	Forge Farmhouse, Walmley Ash Lane.	Two-storey 18 th century house located on the edge of Walmley Ash. The former farmhouse is no longer in agricultural use and has been heavily altered with little of the original façade surviving. The outbuildings do survive, but are in a poor condition. The building experiences views over agricultural land to the north, while to the south the area has been converted to use as allotments, providing a buffer to the encroaching housing estate.	Post-medieval	Listed Building	II	Moderate	1075809	N/A
CBB028	CH-02-155-R1 -G4	Built heritage	Bradford Arms Public House.	18 th century brick coaching Inn with hipped roof two-storey with mullion and transom windows and single-storey wings. The Inn is set back off the Chester Road with an extensive courtyard to the front flanked by the single storey coach house (CBB026). A large single storey range projects to the rear of the Inn on the east side, a number of small ancillary buildings occupy the rear court and further to the rear is a large modern range. The whole group is set within an urban setting on the highway, consistent with its historic setting; however, the introduction of car parking on the east side and increased density of surrounding residential housing has eroded this significance.	Post-medieval	Listed Building	II	Moderate	1076755	N/A
CBB029	CH-01-157 -G7	Archaeology	Narrow ridge and furrow, Park Hall nature reserve.	Narrow ridge-and-furrow, approximately 3m across surviving as earthworks. The asset is located within an area that is currently managed as a nature reserve which is enclosed by extensive 20 th century development to the north and south consisting of the M6 to the south and Birmingham and Derby line to the north. Within the nature reserve the asset maintains its legibility with other assets, particularly the other areas of ridge and furrow (CBB031, CBB021). CBB030	CH-01-157 -E8	Woodland	Langley Hill Wood.	Langley Hill Wood, semi-natural ancient woodland of two hectares, since cleared. The asset is located within an area that is currently managed as a nature reserve which is enclosed by extensive 20th century development to the north and south consisting of the M6 to the south and Birmingham and Derby line to the north. It shares a relationship with Park Hill Wood (CBB023), both representing remnants of former parkland.	Medieval	Non-designated	N/A	Low	N/A	MBM1606
CBB031	CH-01-157 -E8	Archaeology	Broad ridge and furrow located with Park Hall nature reserve.	Broad ridge-and-furrow, possibly a water meadow surviving as earthworks. The asset is located within an area that is currently managed as a nature reserve which is enclosed by extensive 20th century development to the north and south consisting of the M6 to the south and Birmingham and Derby line to the north. Within the nature reserve the asset maintains its legibility with other assets within the park, particularly the other areas of ridge and furrow (CBB031, CBB029). CBB032	CH-01-157 -E7	Archaeology	Park Hall burnt mound.	Site of Park Hall burnt mound, low earth mound in north-western corner of Park Hall nature reserve. The asset is located within the north-west corner an area that is currently managed as a nature reserve which is enclosed by extensive 20th century development to the north and south consisting of the M6 to the south and Birmingham and Derby line to the north and the Industrial Estate west of Thameside Drive along with the diverted course of the River Tame. Within the nature reserve the asset maintains its legibility with other assets that are contained within this area. However, the presence of the modern urban development and the diversion of the River Tame has significantly eroded its position within the landscape.	Bronze age	Non-designated	N/A	Low	N/A	MBM2228
CBB033	CH-01-157 -D8	Archaeology	Hollow-way, Park Hall.	Site of a trackway or holloway. The asset is located within the south-west corner an area that is currently managed as a nature reserve which is enclosed by extensive 20th century development to the north and south consisting of the M6 to the south and Birmingham and Derby line to the north and the Industrial Estate west of Thameside Drive along with the diverted course of the River Tame. Within the nature reserve the asset maintains its legibility with other assets that are contained within this area. CBB035	CH-02-156b -J9	Park and Garden	Castle Bromwich Hall park and garden.	Castle Bromwich Hall park and garden is a late-17 th century formal garden and park, covering in total approximately 19 hectares. The gardens occupy approximately four hectares and comprise formal gardens located to the north and west of the house with a forecourt area to the south and a service court to the east. To the south beyond the forecourt is an extensive and broad avenue. West of the formal gardens is an area of wilderness parkland crossed by informal trackways. The gardens provide a setting for Castle Bromwich Hall (CBB046) and occupy an elevated position overlooking the River Tame to the north and across towards the commercial developments on the north side of the River. The park is located on the west edge of the historic settlement of Castle Bromwich but has been encroached upon by inter-war and post-war housing particularly on its south and east sides. CBB046	CH-02-155 -C9	Built heritage	Castle Bromwich Hall	16 th century stone-dressed brick building remodelled in 17 th and 18 th centuries and enlarged in 19 th century. Built on a three-storey courtyard plan. Fine interiors including plasterwork. The south front is characterised by its fine central porch and gabled forward projecting wings. The south front overlooks the forecourt and south avenue. Formal gardens are located to the west and north of the Hall and the service court is located on the east side. Parkland extends to the west. The Hall is located on the west side of the early settlement on an elevated site overlooking the River Tame to the north. Modern developments have encroached on the south, east and west sides. The church and church yard lie immediately to the north and form a group with the Hall. The parkland was truncated with the construction of the A452; however, despite its proximity, and that of the M6, there is little appreciation of these from the hall itself. CBB076	CH-02-155 C9	Conservation area	Castle Bromwich Conservation Area.	Castle Bromwich Conservation Area is located north of Solihull Borough, adjoining the boundary of the City of Birmingham. The conservation area comprises five elements – Castle Bromwich Hall and Gardens, the Church of St. Mary and St. Margaret (including the graveyard), the open land to the south, west and north-west, the adjacent residential area to the east and the area of the Castle Mound. Individually these elements are of historic and architectural value, which is enhanced when considered as a group. The conservation area provides evidence for longevity of occupation at Castle Bromwich through the incorporation of the scheduled monument; however, it is the hall and associated buildings and gardens which have the most significant impact on its special character and appearance. The hall, its gardens, outbuildings and the church form a significant group at the centre of the conservation area and are dominant forms in the urban streetscape. Despite the encroachment of modern housing development and the M6, the historic setting of the group remains legible.	Romano-British to 20th century/modern	Conservation area	N/A	Moderate	N/A	N/A
